TRUMAN RULED 'WRONG' IN STEEL SEIZURE

Friends Plant 130 Acres of Corn When Misfortune Befalls Farmer

FRIENDS OF THE WENDELL SHAW'S near New Holland, sure have his thanks for helping him out with spring planting. Shaw couldn't get all of it done so his friends dropped over and helped him plant 130 acres of corn. They are shown above after they had finished the job.

Friendship has another example just over the Fayette County line in Pickaway County on the Wendell Shaw farm.

For several months, Shaw's father, who lived in Hillsboro, was seriously ill and Shaw had to drive there to stay with him every other night until his death last week. Shaw was unable to get his corn planted and his field ready for soybeans.

Wednesday afternoon, Nelson Bochar, Wayne Forsythe and Glen Sowers dropped over to the Shaw farm and started getting the land ready for the seed corn. That evening the word got around that Shaw was behind on planting and as the word passed from mouth to mouth the number of persons available to help out increased.

By Thursday morning, 14 tractors were available and as they pulled in to the farm both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were out in their front yard watching their friends.

The men got started on the 130 acres of land about 9 A. M. They also disced a 60 acre field for soybeans.

At noon the men stopped, took their lunches to the shade of a tree in the front yard and had a picnic lunch.

By 5 P. M. all of the 130 acres of corn were planted and the land for the soybeans was ready for planting.

"Shaw was kinda surprised when we told him what we were going to do," one of the friends said. "He sure was happy."

Those who took time off from their own work to help a friend in need were: Robert Rowland, Bud Jacobs, Woodrow Workman, Pearl Speakman, Clark Smith, Sheldon Grimes, Ancil Swift, Howard Summers, Myron Grimes, Timothy McFadden, Robert O'Brien, Nelson Bochar, Wayne Forsythe, Roger Dorsey, Earl Bryant and Glen Sowers.

Fuel for the tractors was the contribution of the Ohio Oil Co.

While the officials of both city and county were together, County Engineer Wagner raised the question of some help from the city in a cleanup of the bed and banks of Paint Creek. This was agreed to by the city officials as to aiding in such work within the city.

THE COUNTY is making estimates and plans for doing this work beyond the city limits also, to minimize the flood dangers by removing debris, bushes and small trees which have had a tendency to hold back some of the water by causing small dams at a few spots.

County Auditor Acton announced at the commissioners meeting that all county departments, schools, the city of Washington C. H. and other subdivisions of the county, are required to have their requests for 1953 appropriations in the hands of the Fayette County Budget Commission on or before next July 20. This is required under the state law.

A new bulletin board has been placed upon a wall of the county commissioners' office for posting all official notices such as ditch or road hearings, or monthly reports of county departments.

The continuation of the hearing on the Dice-Slagle ditch in Jasper Township, was scheduled for July (Monday) afternoon at 2 P. M. at the commissioners office.

Army Career Being Ended By Gen. Ike

37 Years As Officer Winding Up With Military Confabs

WASHINGTON, June 2—(AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, soldier turning politician, was here Monday to say farewell to arms.

Behind him were 37 years as an Army officer, including two periods as supreme commander of all the armies of the West in Europe.

BEFORE HIM looms one of the roughest and most bitter political campaigns in recent history. And the hardest fighting is likely to be within the Republican Party, for the presidential nomination which Sen. Robert A. Taft and others are seeking.

This was transition, Sunday the five-star general stood by the plane which brought him from Paris, smiling in the warmth of a summer sun and a military welcome (including a 17-gun salute) for a great soldier come home. Tuesday afternoon he will be faced by the cold facts of political life.

That is when he has said he will doff his uniform, after his last call at the Pentagon. He makes his first speech in multi in Abilene, Kan., Wednesday.

On the very light side of the Eisenhower reception story, comedian Red Skelton "reported" Sunday night to a nationwide television audience that when the 17-gun salute was given to the general, Senator Taft was heard in the background crying: "Lower, lower, lower!"

Even as he arrived, Taft's campaign headquarters got out a statement welcoming him back to this country but regretting that "he didn't return sooner."

"Now that he is about to take off his battle jacket we of the Republican Party hope that he will start fighting," said Rep. B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee, manager of the committee backing the Ohio senator for the GOP nomination.

Reece suggested Eisenhower could start by "telling us whether or not the plan to spend half a million dollars in paying the expenses of delegates to come and see him has his approval."

THIS WAS A reference to a bid from Eisenhower backers for GOP convention delegates to visit the general at the expense of local campaign groups, if the delegates do not pay their own travel costs.

Most impartial observers set the cost of such a "visit Ike" project at $105,000 instead of $500,000. Taft's campaign aides have said the Ohioan's campaign cost will run between $2 and $3 million.

As part of Eisenhower's official welcome, he was hurried to the White House Sunday to report to President Truman. He was there almost two hours. The greater part of the time was devoted to a two-man talk between the President and the general.

There was a subsequent session with Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett, Gen. Omar (Please turn to Page Two)

Gunman Killed In Holdup Try

STEUBENVILLE, June 2—Two masked gunmen tried to hold up a gambling casino operator Sunday, but he whipped out his own revolver, killed one and chased the other.

Prosecutor James Borkowski said Anthony Polimeni, 33, operator of the Club 30 at Chester, W. Va., admitted shooting Rudy Palsa, 26, a Weirton, W. Va., steelworker. Police later arrested Patsy Pete, 26, a poolroom worker and bartender, who Borkowski said admitted helping Palsa in the attempted robbery.

WASHINGTON, June 2—(AP)—Gen. Eisenhower prepared Monday to doff his decoration-laden khakis for mufti as he steps from military to political life.

And while the general knows from first-hand experience the full truth of the old saying that "war is hell"—he "ain't seen nothing yet" from the going-over he certainly will get in political battles yet to come.

Eisenhower flew into Washington Sunday and got a full dress, non-political military welcome, was whisked off to the White House for two hours with President Truman, and went to a downtown hotel for the night.

As the general returned home to political wars, here is how the Associated Press reported its tabulation of national convention delegate choices in both parties:

Republicans—Sen. Robert Taft, 420 delegate votes; Eisenhower, 387; others, 59; unknown, 203; total selections to date 1,069; needed for nomination, 604 of 1,206 delegates.

Democrats—Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, 150; Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, 86½; Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman, 85½; others, 227; unknown, 403; total selected, 952; needed for nomination, 616 of 1,230 delegates.

Ohio Leads Nation As Death Chalks Up Record On Holiday

By The Associated Press

Mounting returns on the Memorial Day weekend death toll from highway crashes skyrocketed Monday to a new all-time record for the extended holiday.

Ohio had the dubious honor of having recorded the largest number of killings on the highways of any state in the Union. A total of 40 traffic deaths were chalked up by the Buckeye State. California was second.

At least 352 persons died during the three-day holiday. This was at least five more than were killed in traffic accidents during the four-day Memorial Day holiday of 1950 when the previous all-time record of 347 traffic deaths was recorded.

Fr. Linnehan Is To Leave St. Colman's

Father John Linnehan who came to Washington C. H., Dec. 23 to take over the pastorate at St. Colman's Catholic parish, when the late Father Otto F. Guenther entered Mt. Carmel Hospital has conducted his last Sunday services here.

He disclosed Monday that he had been advised by Bishop Michael J. Ready of Columbus that his successor, possibly the permanent pastor of the parish, would come here by assignment Thursday.

Father Linnehan said he did not know yet who the new priest would be.

Father Linnehan came here from Essex, N. Y., on a temporary basis with the understanding that he would remain only until the pastorate could be filled.

He has been assigned to the Catholic Church in Tewksbury, Mass., in a capacity similar to that which he held at St. Colman's Church here.

Although a quiet and retiring man, Father Linnehan has made many friends, both in and out of the Catholic faith, during his stay here. Expressions of regret over the coming parting of priest and parishioners were mutual after his announcement.

Father Guenther, his predecessor at St. Colman's Church, died in Mt. Carmel Hospital about two months after he entered the hospital.

There was also a folksy little intermission while the President spent 50 minutes showing the general about the newly rebuilt executive mansion—into which the Eisenhower family may move next January.

The plan was for Eisenhower to go again to the White House Monday afternoon for a ceremony, details of which were to be announced later.

At 9 a. m. Tuesday, the general will hold a news conference in the Pentagon which, like Sunday's welcoming ceremony, the defense department will be confined to military matters.

Remaining to be cleared up is the question of Eisenhower's Army status between now and the time of the Republican National Convention, July 7.

The official orders issued by the Army on May 9, in response to his request for relief from his European assignment, assigned him to the office of the chief of staff "with station in New York." That makes him a five-star general on active duty but without command.

As he moves into the campaign for the nomination he may request retirement from active duty. That would free him of Army curbs on political activity.

Commies Seal Off Berlin's Red Zone

BERLIN, June 2.—(P)—Scattered clashes were reported Monday as West Berliners sought to push through Communist road blocks sealing off the city from the surrounding Russian zone.

Under their new regulations the Communists require a special police permit for traveling in East Germany. Since nobody knows where to get these, it means several thousand West Berliners who work in the Russian zone will be unable to get to their jobs when the long Whitesundt weekend ends Tuesday. A few anxious people tried it Monday, but they were barred by Red police sentries and arguments developed.

Ohio Highways May Be Issue In Campaign

COLUMBUS, June 2.—(P)—Will it take more taxes to put Ohio's highways in shape?

That question places Buckeye gubernatorial candidates on opposite sides of the road.

Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, Republican nominee, says he won't recommend any increase in taxes. He advocates use of modern business methods to make tax dollars go 20 per cent further.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Democrat seeking a fourth term, says it will take new and increased taxes to do the job because present revenues are inadequate.

Lausche wants a ton-mile tax on trucks—based on their weight and distance traveled—to raise more money from heavy highway users. He urges an extra cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline to cost the average motorist another $7 a year.

The state now has a tax of four cents a gallon on gasoline. A boost to five cents would yield an additional $20 million annually.

THE LAST legislature turned down Lausche's ton-mile tax proposal. He estimated it would produce an extra $25 million a year for roads. The lawmakers, instead, increased truck license fees by about 7½ million a year.

Taft and other Republican candidates blasted Ohio's highway program during the primary election campaign. Taft has made it clear that highways will be a major issue in the campaign for election in November. So has Lausche. "We spend millions of dollars every year to patch our roads, so

The Gardner and His Fight With Weeds

"I would enjoy gardening if it wasn't for spending so much time fighting the darned weeds."

It was an enthusiastic Washington C. H. man speaking this past week, one who has become very ardent in his devotion to this form of recreation. But he is sticking with it and doing a good job both in flowers and vegetables, so far.

Quite probably he is merely echoing the thoughts of scores of others who have to do a lot of work to get the satisfaction that comes with beautiful flowers and fine vegetables later.

According to those who offer plenty advice to gardeners, the last two weeks and the immediate future days, have been and will be the time to get rid of those weeds. Many have done so although frequently stopped by the many rains in recent weeks.

However, we are told, that a vigorous attack on those weeds now will save time, energy and a few cusswords later. They take possession of the field or garden if they do not get attention now.

Weeds, unfortunately, seem to be much better adapted to taking advantage of good growing weather than cultivated crops. They appear overnight, they add inches to their stature in a few hours, and soon are several feet tall and ready to go to seed.

So they must be dealt with, and the gardener gets at the task as best he may. If he has a wheel hoe and the weeds are not too big he can make short work of a great many of them. A hand hoe is also a good weapon for a man who has the muscles to use it.

But there are always weeds too close to the rows to be handled by either of these methods. Therefore it is necessary to take hold and pull.

It is not exactly fun, but to get in the spirit of the game is to experience a certain savage joy. It is a pleasure to see the serried ranks fall and then wilt in the sun. It is even a pleasure to yank the interlopers out by the roots and pile them up to wither and die. And with weeds as with other things, the bigger they are the harder they fall.

But the amateur gardener, straighten-up to get a kink out of his aching back, is likely to wish that he could trade places with the farmer as he drives his tractor-drawn cultivator down his long fields.

Almost A Lost Art

Doris Ann Hall is the champion speller of the nation, having won the championship in competition with the best spellers in the country. The 13-year-old girl does not come from any of the great seats of learning. Her home is in the small town of Hudson, N. C.

Such words as farraginous, vignette were easy for her. In fact, the honor came to her when she correctly spelled cicerone, after the runner-up had missed it. Doris Ann won a big cup, $500 in cash, and a weekend trip to New York City.

To a considerable extent spelling has become a lost art in the United States. Somewhere along the line orthography has been passed up in the education system, in favor of more obtuse subjects.

University graduates frequently enter the newspaper industry so deficient in the ability to spell they cause endless trouble for editors.

Now a 13-year-old girl from the North Carolina hills has come upon the scene to set an example for all. There should be a revival of interest in one of the fundamentals of education.

A pollster has discovered that men's sense of humor is more highly developed than that of women. This serves them well when they view wife's new spring bonnet, with bill attached.

Rabbits are reported unusually plentiful in some areas, but not more numerous than coattail riders in this election year.

Diet and Health Cause of Disorder Is Pituitary Gland

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Growth of a sort can take place in an adult if the pituitary gland becomes active late in life.

The organs which control our growth and body development are certain glands which manufacture important substances called hormones. The glands pour these juices into the blood as it passes through them, and the blood stream carries the hormones to other parts of the body.

One gland that controls growth is the pituitary, a small pouch in the brain.

Overactive Gland

If the pituitary is overactive and pours out too much of its growth hormones while a child is still in the growing stage, the child generally becomes large and oversized. This is the cause of many giants and people with extra-large builds.

It is sometimes possible to slow down the pituitary with X-ray treatment. These are sometimes given if a person grows too tall, or if overgrowth threatens his health or well-being.

In other cases, an oversecretion of hormones is due to a tumor of the pituitary gland, and a surgical operation may be necessary to correct it.

The pituitary may also begin to oversecrete in an adult, after his normal growth period has ended. This results in an abnormal growth of the bones, known as acromegaly.

Most bones cannot increase in size once their growth is complete. Certain bones, however, such as the jaw bones, nose, eye ridges, hands, and feet, do increase. The skin also becomes thickened and wrinkled.

A person may first notice acromegaly when he finds he has to take a larger size in gloves and shoes. The hands not only grow large, but very broad, and appear "spade-shaped." The fingers become blunt and thick, and are sometimes called "sausage fingers." The jaw seems larger than normal, and the shape of the face may change greatly.

X-Ray Only Treatment

Usually, if this condition occurs very late in life, it is too severe to treat with any success. X-ray to the pituitary gland is the only treatment known.

There is also a brighter side to this disorder. The gland activity has been known to increase the person's mental sharpness, so that these people are often witty and alert in their later years.

It Costs Money to Make Money

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK.—Could you get by on $50,000 a year?

The average man figures with that kind of money he could satisfy Uncle Sam, live the life of Riley himself, and still have enough left over to feed gold peanuts to pigeons in the park.

But many a person in the $50,000-and-up income bracket today complains he finds it hard to make both ends meet. Why? Well people who dwell at that exhilarating financial altitude say they have so many unusual obligations that their big incomes often turn out to be all gross and no net.

This is particularly true with top public entertainers, who sometimes get the feeling they have been cut up more ways than a pie in a Bowery restaurant.

Where does all that dough go? Let us take a typical case—Dorothy Shay, the "Park Avenue Hillbillie." Her robust songs have made her a queen of the supper club circuit, at $5,000 a week and higher.

These high-priced chanteuses, however, are like racehorses. They don't perform for the customers each and every week. How many Kentucky Derbys are there in a year?

Last year Dorothy, who is a good business girl, asked her accountant to estimate the minimum income she would require for 1951. His figure, $81,000.

Of this, business expenses and taxes came to $65,625. They included such items as commission and managerial costs $18,630, federal taxes, $10,040; California income tax, $3,750; legal services, $2,600; traveling expenses, $12,150; professional wardrobe, $4,000.

Subtracting $65,625 from $81,000, Dorothy found she had $15,375 for living and personal expenses. That seems a cozy sum for a single girl, but household costs—such as $1,200 for domestics, $1,500 for food, $1,500 for rent—ate up $5,720.

That left her $9,655. But she had to figure into this $600 for dependents and gifts, $3,560 for life insurance premiums, $1,500 for medical expenses, $1,200 for personal wardrobe and laundry, $1,265 for miscellaneous expenses and $1,200 for non-deductible business expenses.

The result, according to Dorothy, was that she had the grand sum of $330 left to save or do with as she wished.

Rising prices, she feels, have made the $81,000 estimate inadequate for the demands of 1952.

"How can I get by with only $1,500 for food?" asked Dorothy, a strong healthy girl who likes steak once a day. "And where today can you find a domestic who will work for $1,200?"

There is only one answer—to sing more often.

"The least I can afford to make in 1952 is $100,000," Dorothy said glumly.

It takes a lot of money to make money these days.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 130

By George Sokolsky

Senator John W. Bricker and a number of other senators, both Democrats and Republicans, have introduced Senate Joint Resolution 130, proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which is fundamental to our liberties.

This resolution to be effective must be passed by two-thirds of both houses of Congress and by three-fourths of the states. When it is realized how speedily the 18th Amendment abolishing prohibition was passed, it is surprising that this proposed amendment should be relatively ignored.

For, unless some measures are taken, the United Nations could become a legislative body for the American people. According to at least one decision of our courts, the Charter of the United Nations being a treaty and therefore the law of the land, actions taken under that treaty are binding upon us. The Bricker resolution is designed to correct this loophole in our constitutional system.

The first three sections deal with problems arising out of the existence of the United Nations and the authority which our own Constitution gives to United Nations resolutions:

"Section 1. No treaty or executive agreement shall be made respecting the rights of citizens of the United States protected by this Constitution, or abridging or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

"Sec. 2. No treaty or executive agreement shall vest in any international organization or in any foreign power any of the legislative, executive, or judicial powers vested by this Constitution in the Congress, the president, and in the courts of the United States, respectively.

"Sec. 3. No treaty or executive agreement shall alter or abridge the laws of the United States or the Constitution or laws of the several states, unless, and then only to the extent that, Congress shall so provide by act or joint resolution."

Should this amendment to the Constitution be adopted, each measure of the United Nations affecting the American people would have to be passed, to be effective, by the Congress of the United States.

For instance, the United Nations is now considering a resolution which Americans regard as a limitation upon the freedom of the press. Should such a resolution be passed, as matters now stand, our courts might hold that it is good law, having been agreed upon within the terms of the charter of the United Nations, which is a treaty and therefore the law of the land.

Under the Bricker Amendment, such a United Nations resolution would not affect Americans unless passed by Congress. And an act of Congress cannot contravene the Constitution, as this one obviously would.

The second phase of this resolution is of equal importance. Steps are constantly being taken by the president and the State Department which, were they treaties, would, under the Constitution, have to be ratified by the Senate before they can be binding upon the United States. At Teheran and Yalta, for instance, actions were taken "by executive agreement" which affect our whole history. We are now at war in Korea because of Teheran and Yalta.

To discontinu this evasion of the Constitution, the Bricker Amendment provides:

"Sec. 4. Executive agreements shall not be made in lieu of treaties.

"Executive agreements shall, if not sooner terminated, expire automatically one year after the end of the term of office for which the president making the agreement shall have been elected, but the Congress may, at the request of any president, extend for the duration of the term of such president the life of any such agreement made or extended during the next preceding presidential term.

"The president shall publish all executive agreements except that those which in his judgment require secrecy shall be submitted to appropriate committees of the Congress in lieu of publication."

The provisions place limitations upon the president and the State Department. In effect, they force upon the president disclosure of arrangements he may have made in lieu of treaties. For instance, to this day, we still are not altogether cognizant of what Messrs. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin agreed to at Teheran, and Yalta, although the effects of their decisions there are becoming altogether too clear for our happiness as a people.

Under the Bricker Amendment, even if secrecy were required, an appropriate committee of Congress would be empowered to know the truth—not only the chairman of the committee, who might be a partisan, but the entire committee, including the minority.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, June 2 — (AP) — When Gen. Eisenhower stepped from the plane which brought him here Sunday he was smiling and strode around vigorously. He seemed in good health.

He'll need it. The people behind the eyes that examined him closely, at the airport and on TV, must have wondered, as I did: "What's he in for? What will they do to him?"

At 61 and after 37 years in the Army he was coming home to run for the presidency. He didn't have to. He could have retired on his Army pay of $18,500 a year for life or gone back as president of Columbia University.

He had more than enough prestige. He had a distinguished and most secure place in history. And he had the overflowing good will of his fellow citizens. Many a man has been willing to settle for less.

While he was in uniform Eisenhower had to make some necessary statements on foreign affairs. BUT, OPERATING on the theory a general should stay out of domestic political brawls, he had been very vague on domestic issues.

In this way he escaped being mugged up. Those days are over. In fact, they were over Sunday while he was still in the air. Shortly before Eisenhower landed here, Sen. Taft attacked him.

In a major foreign policy speech Taft criticized our air strength and said: "There has been a steady deterioration in our comparative air power, which began while Gen. Eisenhower was chief of staff."

Newsmen who couldn't pin Eisenhower down while he was in uniform will meet him again this week, but this time as a man seeking the presidency. And this time he'll have to give some answers.

And from now on his political opponents will lambast him for what he says or doesn't say, trying to use every word against him which, of course, he has the privilege of doing to them.

Before the Democrats get a chance for a crack at him, some of Eisenhower's own Republicans are trying to nail him, which may give him a foretaste of what's in store for him.

Since it's by no means certain he'll get the nomination, much less the presidency, it's possible that just before he opened the plane door Sunday and stepped out into politics, Eisenhower was thinking: "I wonder if it's worth it."

Reaches U. S. Port From The Far East

James R. Callender, boiler tender, third class, USN, husband of Mrs. James R. Callender of 805 South Fayette Street, Washington C. H., has arrived in San Diego aboard the attack transport USS Telfair which has completed her second tour of duty in the Far East since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

Operating as a unit of Task Force 90 during her tour in the Orient, the Telfair participated in the lifting of army troops from Japan to Korea. She also participated in the training of troops in amphibious warfare techniques at Okinawa.

Recommissioned from the Pacific Reserve Fleet shortly after the outbreak of hostilities in Korea, the Telfair reported to the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force on September 13, 1950 and left immediately for her first period of operations in the Far East.

Ohioan Off To Explore Vast Uncharted 'Headless Valley'

DEFIANCE, June 2.—(AP)—A 27-year-old amateur geologist is on his way to "Headless Valley" on the border of Canada's Yukon and Northwest territories. Richard T. Shamp of nearby Ney is after:

1. The fun of a last fling before he settles down.

2. The solution to the mystery of "Headless Valley."

3. Gold and uranium. This search is a 1,000-to-1 shot.

Shamp, a former Navy officer, is leading a party of three to the partially unexplored reaches of the Nahanni River Valley.

Even the great valley's name expresses utter loneliness. Nahanni is Indian for "people over there, far away."

The young explorer has visited the Nahanni Valley before, but he got only as far as the 316-foot Virginia Falls. But "Headless Valley" is above the falls. Legend says of the few who have entered the valley, three have been murdered and a dozen, including one girl, vanished. The valley got its name from the fact one of the murdered men was decapitated.

SHAMP WILL have aerial photographs taken by a Royal Canadian Air Force survey team. On these he has plotted the geological formations likely to contain precious minerals. He says a three-year search in the Library of Congress and Canadian government records has failed to indicate the upper Nahanni ever has been explored.

He and his two companions will spend possibly three months in the lonely valley just 120 miles south of the Arctic Circle. They will travel through 11,000-foot mountains where, they believe, only grizzly bears and timber wolves dwell. There are no known native tribes in the area.

The party is traveling by car via the Alcan Highway to Was-ton Lake near the British Columbia-Yukon border.

From there a bush pilot will fly them to Brutnell Lake, 50 land miles from the upper Nahanni. The trek probably will take a month.

Even if Shamp fails to find fun, the solution of the valley's mystery or gold or uranium, he hopes to bring out with him a sheaf of geological reports for both the Canadian and U. S. governments.

Robert E. Purtell Weds Marjorie June Peters

A wedding took place Sunday in Vallonia, Indiana, which is of interest to the many friends of the groom, Mr. Robert E. Purtell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Purtell of Leesburg, Route 2, who was united in marriage to Miss Marjorie June Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peters of Vallonia in a double ring ceremony performed at the Christian Church in that city as the hands of the clock went upward from 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. H. Dean Warren of Freetown, Indiana, performed the ceremony.

Miss Vivian Hall, niece of the bride was maid of honor and Mr. Harold L. Barnett, served as best man. Ushers were Kenneth Sweeney and Thomas Gorman.

The church altar had a lovely arrangement of palms and ferns and was lighted by two seven-branch candelabra.

Ancient Bosox Hurler Draws New Attention

Kinder Maintaining His Magic Over Windy City Boys

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—Brooklyn is back in the lead in the National League, but all eyes are on the Boston Red Sox and their ancient right-hander, Ellis Kinder.

Boston climbed to within one game of the American League pace-setting Cleveland Indians Sunday as Kinder hung up his 18th consecutive triumph over Chicago's White Sox with a 3-2 victory, in relief.

The tall Tennessean, who will be 38 next month, would be the best pitcher in baseball if he could face the White Sox all the time. He owns a 20-3 lifetime record against his Windy City "cousins." They haven't beaten him since the middle of the 1948 season.

A homerun by Fred Hatfield, his first of the season, snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh and gave Kinder his fourth victory of the season. Kinder replaced starter Bill Henry in the top of the seventh when the rookie southpaw raised a blister on his pitching hand. Saul Rogovin was the loser.

MEANWHILE, the St. Louis Cardinals caught up with their nemesis, Dave Koss, battering the left-hander for six runs in five innings as they swept a doubleheader from the Giants, 8-7 and 8-2, to knock New York out of first place.

Koss, who has won his last 10 decisions over the Cards, escaped defeat, however, when the Giants battled back to a 7-7 tie in the eighth inning. St. Louis then won the game in the bottom of the ninth against George Spencer when Enos Slaughter hit a homerun.

Gerry Staley, backed by a 12-hit attack, won his ninth game in the nightcap which was called after 7½ innings because of darkness.

Brooklyn swept past the Giants into the No. 1 spot by edging the Chicago Cubs, 3-2. The Dodgers scored all their runs in the second inning, two of them coming on Gil Hodges' two-run homer.

The Boston Braves won their first game for new manager Charlie Grimm with an 18-hit 9-4 victory over Cincinnati after veteran southpaw Ken Raffensberger had pitched the Reds to a 1-0 masterpiece in the opener of the twin bill.

Ed Mathews rapped his eighth homerun and Sam Jethroe collected four singles for the Braves as Warren Spahn coasted to his fifth success. Raffensberger permitted only five hits as he downed Vern Bickford in a pitching duel for his seventh triumph.

Ralph Kiner clouted his seventh homer with two out in the ninth inning to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory and a split against the Philadelphia Phillies. Curt Simmons pitched a seven-hit performance for his fourth triumph in the Phils' opening game, 5-1 win.

In the American League, Lou Sleater won his third straight for Washington and Ted Gray gained his fifth for Detroit as the Senators and Tigers divided a doubleheader. The Senators won the first 4-3, and the Tigers the second game 6-3. Rain washed out other games.

Golf's 19th Hole Teams Tie in Best Ball Tourney Circleville To Play Here Sunday

Four Washington C. H. golfers today could swell with a measure of pride—they had beaten the great Ben Hogan, something few of the best golfers in the country have been able to do.

No they did not meet him personally on the links; they did it in a "stunt" tournament that was held on hundreds of golf courses all over the country Saturday.

The object of the tourney was to beat the par 71 the mighty Hogan shot on the Northwood Country Club course in Dallas. The duffers across the land, however, did not have to meet him at scratch; they played on their home courses, for the most part, and had the advantage of a handicap.

Three Washington C. H. golfers tied Hogan's 71: Danny O'Brien shot a 74 with a handicap of 7, thus, recorded a 67 in the tourney; Dick Korn shot a 76 with a 7 handicap for a 69 and Jim Grinstead shot an 84 with a handicap of 14, for a 70. Bill Junk shot a 79 with a handicap of 8 for a 71 which tied the master of the links.

There was an entry fee of $1 for the "Beat Ben Hogan Tournament." All who did it received medals. The profits from the tournament are to go to the National Golf Fund and the USO. The tourney was sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine. An estimated 55,000 golfers will take a crack at Hogan's 71.

THE MEMORIAL DAY weekend was one of the biggest holidays, golfwise at the Country Club here in a long time.

Next Sunday an inter-city invitational tournament is to be held here. Clubs at Wilmington, Circleville and London are to send four of their best golfers into the competition.

Every Wednesday morning has been set aside for "Ladies Day." That will bring golf in the morning and a luncheon at noon. Special events are to be arranged for each one and prizes will be awarded.

The big Ladies Invitational tournament is to be held here July 7 Mrs. Roger Littleton and Mrs. Wayne Shobe are the co-chairmen. Last year, about 100 women from all over central Ohio participated in the first of these tourneys here. An even bigger crowd is expected this year.

The Washington C. H. team is slated to play a return match at Circleville June 15. They nosed out the Circlevillians, called the toughest team of the inter-city circuit, when the two met here a couple of weeks ago.

With the annual Handicap Tournament just getting under way seven of the 100-plus golfers who were entered in it have been eliminated.

Dwight Coffman beat Bill McLean 2 and 1; Austin Wise beat Dick Korn by default; Jim Grinstead beat Chuck Cummings 1 up; Brad Johnson beat Howard Harper 1 up; Ronnie Cornwell beat Karl Kestner 2 and 1 and Dale Dawson beat Merrill Kaufman 1 up.

Golfers who qualified for the Invitational Tournament which will be held here Sunday are Frank Truitt 72; Ronnie Cornwell 74; Chuck Cummings 76 and Dan O'Brien 76. Only the top four are to enter the tournament. However, the next four—possibly for alternates—were Bill Himmelsbach 78, Jim Grinstead 78, Karl Kestner 79 and Delmar Mowery 80.

SOME ODDS and ends from the notebook of the pro, Tony Capuana:

Walter Rettig just missed a hole-in-one on No. 5 by a few inches. It was the same thing for Babe Maddux on No. 8.

The next Country Club dance is to be Saturday 10 P. M. until 1:30 A. M. It is for members and guests.

Golfers out for the first time: Troy Junk, Walter Jones, W. E. Seilkop, Harris Willis, Leonard Korn, Dewey Sheidler, Baldwin Rice, Dr. Charles Pfersick, J. F. Dawson, Jr., Mrs. Robert Green and Juanita Cannon.

A film of Sam Snead is to be shown at the Men's Nite party Thursday night.

Frank Truitt was putting for a birdie on every hole except No. 4 and he was putting for an eagle there. His final score was 34—that is 2 under par.

Danny O'Brien played 54 holes on Friday and was under 40 on each nine.

First round of the Handicap Tournament must be played by June 9.

Jim Grinstead had his "best ever" 18-hole score, 40 and 38.

FATHER AND SON golf two-somes out recently are: Eddie Cullen and son Bobby; Richard R. Willis and son Teddy; Ben Wright and son Jerry; Jack Hagerty and son Johnny; George Phillips and son Bryant; Dewey Sheidler and son Dave; W. O. O'Brien and son Danny; Troy Junk and son Bill; Bill McLean and son Roger; Dr. Marvin Roszmann and son Henry and Hugh Zimmerman and son Dyne.

Jim Fox is back home from Purdue University and playing golf. Joe Tillett is the most improved golfer of the week; he shot an 81 on 18 holes.

Some of the better scores of the week are: Bill McLean 37; Karl Kestner 36; Kenneth Harley 39; Frank Baker 37; Bill Junk 36; Dick Korn 36; Mrs. Byers Shaw 62; Stan Hagerty 43; Glen Roseboom 40; Duke Bireley 38; Merrill Kauf-

'500' Winners Pocket Purse Of $43,000

INDIANAPOLIS, June 2.—(AP)—

It was worth about $43,000 to Troy Ruttman and his boss when Troy passed Bill Vukovich's wrecked automobile in the last 25 miles of the 500-mile Memorial Day race.

The 22-year-old Ruttman of Lynwood, Calif., and car owner J. C. Agajanian of San Pedro, Calif., picked up their winners' check for $61,743.18 Saturday night at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway victory dinner.

Vukovich and owner, Howard Keck of Los Angeles were paid $18,693.18 for 17th place. The check was bigger than any paid below second place because Vukovich won $15,000 in lap prizes for leading 150 of the 200 laps.

The loosening of a clamp on Vukovich's steering shaft cost him the big pot. He lost control and brushed the track's concrete retaining wall.

The speedway payoff of $230,100 was the biggest in 36 Memorial Day races, compared with a record of $207,650 last year. It indicated a record crowd last Friday but attendance figures—estimated at 200,000 or more—were kept secret as usual.

Ruttman's total included $38,500 from the speedway and $4,400 in lap prizes.

Mangrum Wins Western Open

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—(AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, nonchalantly showing the gallery what makes a great pro, wrapped up his first Western Open golf championship in a $2,400 check Sunday after ignoring the competition and stroking a 274 for his par-mocking 72-hole total.

Bobby Locke, recovering from a bad cold, finished in second place with a 282 total.

Johnny Palmer with 283 finished behind Locke. In fourth place were Die Mayers, St. Petersburg, Fla. and Dow Finsterwald of Athens.

man 45; Ralph Douglas 41; Joe Tillett 39; Dr. O. W. House 41, Ed Korn 43; Ben Wright 46; Mrs. Lorena Littleton 54; Dwight Coffman 39; Chuck Dutton 40; Mrs. J. E. Dabe 58; Dick Dawson and Dr. J. H. Persinger 43.

Young ladies taking lessons are Jean and Julie Persinger.

New golfing members are Homer Shelton, Jim Jenkins, Mrs. William Hastings and Mac Wilson.

Sporting a new golf cart as a birthday present is Bud Schlue.

On No. 9, Leonard Korn ended up with the pro shop between his ball and the green; so he used a "hand mashie" to pitch the ball over the shop. Fred Enslin remarked only that "it was a good shot."

Redlegs Need Raffensberger Every Game

CINCINNATI, June 2.—(AP)—It's a pity Ken Raffensberger's nickname isn't "iron man." If the old professor could have pitched both games against Boston Sunday, the Cincinnati Reds would have been home free.

Kenny yielded the same amount of hits that the Braves' Vern Bickford did—five—and issued two walks, but Boston couldn't make 'em count when Raffy served 'em.

After being blanked 1-0 in the opener, however, the Braves set their sights and zeroed in on five Cincinnati pitchers in the second game of the doubleheader and won the nightcap going away, 9-4.

The lusty 18-hit drumbeat made by Boston bats chased starter Frank Hiller in a hurry. Relievers Harry Perkowski, Hern Wehmer, Joe Nuxhall and Frank Smith also suffered their share of Beantown hitting before the game was over.

Raffy rang up his seventh win against three defeats, while Bickford was daubed with his fifth loss against one win.

The Braves came back in the second game, with Warren Spahn pitching steady ball until the final inning, with the assurance of a 9-1 advantage, and allowed seven hits and three runs.

Bubba Church, former Philadelphia hurler who hasn't figures in a decision this year, is due to make his first start for Cincinnati Monday night when the final game of the three-game series is run off. Max Surkont, 2-3, will be on the mound for the Braves.

7,511 Golfers Defeat Hogan In Tourney

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—Who said Ben Hogan can't be beaten? More than 7,000 golfers, most of them just weekend duffers, can say today: "I did."

Nearly all of them, however, did it with handicaps but there were a few that topped Hogan's score without a handicap. Last Saturday the National Open champion turned in a par 71 at the Northwood Country Club course in Dallas, where he'll defend his title June 12.

A total of 7,511 of the 55,105, reporting in the "Beat Ben Hogan" National Golf Day Saturday, turned in better cards than the mighty mile from Texas.

All who participated paid an entry fee of $1 in the event sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine with all proceeds going to the National Golf and U. S. O. Funds.

John Haine, 79-year-old Tres Pinos, Calif., player, had the lowest. He shot a 94 and with a handicap of 14 turned in a 60.

Gen. Omar Bradley, head of the joint chiefs of staff, scored an 85, which was reduced to 74 by his handicap of 11. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) had a 94-16-78.

Hilliards Readies 41-Night Meet

HILLIARDS, June 2.—(AP)—Hilliards Raceway is all set for the call to the post of its 1952 season, opening Tuesday night for 41 nights. Five hundred trotters and pacers are present to take part in what is expected to be the best season in the history of the track.

Opening night honors will go to Ohio's first pacing champion, Pocahontas, in whose memory the inaugural Pocahontas Pace has been named.

The Columbus Trotting Association will sponsor the trophy for the inaugural Pocahontas Pace, which will be raced off in two dashes. Six other races make up the first night's program with post time set for 8:15 p. m.

Officials for the meeting include: Fred Child, of Minnesota, presiding judge; Charles Cookston, Dayton, clerk of course; Jim Moody, Mechanicsburg, race secretary; David Friedman, Youngstown, paddock judge; Robert Reece, Hilliard, patrol judge; Pug Hood, George Williams and Mack Pemberton, Columbus, as timers; W. E. "Briggs" Mercer, Plain City, starter.

West Virginia University fielded its first basketball team in 1904. Since that time the Mountaineers have won 492 games and lost 435.

Cars Pile Up In Bad Wreck Near Atlanta

Broken Rail Sends Eleven Grain Cars Into Ditch

Eleven loaded box cars piled up near Atlanta in the worst wreck on the local division of the Pennsylvania Railroad in many years Saturday at 3 P. M.

A broken rail is believed to have been responsible for the wreck, which occurred near the middle of a train made up of 31 cars, headed east, and pulled by a small Diesel engine.

Most of the cars were loaded with grain shipped from Washington C. H., and other points. Several of the cars were torn free of the trucks and turned over in a ditch.

One car plowed some 50 feet or more into a garden, and other were almost crossways on the roadbed. The mishap occurred just west of the crossing in Atlanta and the cars tore up several hundred feet of track, smashing ties and bending and twisting rails.

It was necessary to call a wrecking crew from Columbus and one from Cincinnati. The combined crews worked Saturday afternoon and night and all day Sunday and until Monday morning to clear up the wreckage.

Surprisingly, little grain was spilled from the cars, but some was lost in clearing up the wreckage.

It was necessary to use many new rails and dozens of new ties to restore the roadbed ready for traffic.

A large number of people from this community and for a wide area about Atlanta visited the scene during the weekend.

Steel Seizure

cause we cannot agree that affirmative is proper on any ground, and because of the transcending importance of the questions presented not only in this critical litigation but also to the powers the President (sic) and of future presidents to act in time of crisis."

Vinson said, "those who suggest that this is a case involving extraordinary powers should be mindful that these are extraordinary times."

He then reviewed world tensions, citing that the United Nations was formed to take collective measures to maintain peace and security, and that the North Atlantic treaty binds each member nation to resist an armed attack against any member nation.

Vinson said, "Our treaties represent not merely legal obligations but show congressional recognition that mutual security for the free world is the best security against the threat of aggression on a global scale."

VINSON SAID the central fact of the case is "that the nation's entire basic steel production would have shut down completely if there had been no government seizure."

He said the steel companies did not even remotely suggest any basis for rejecting Truman's finding that any—and the chief justice italicized the word "any"—stoppage of steel production "would immediately place the nation in peril."

"At the time of the seizure there was not, and there is not now, the slightest evidence to justify the belief that any strike will be of short duration. The union and the steel companies may well engage in a lengthy struggle."

Vinson noted the steel industry argued that "sooner or later" the mills would operate again.

He said that may satisfy the steel companies, "but our soldiers and our Allies will hardly be cheered with the assurance that the ammunition upon which their lives depend will be forthcoming—'sooner or later,' or, in other words, 'too little and too late.'"

Vinson insisted the steel mills were seized for the public good and that "the power of eminent domain, invoked in this case, is an essential attribute of sovereignty and had long been recognized as a power of the federal government."

The theory of eminent domain is that the government may seize, condemn or take over private property in the public interest.

The chief justice said the court majority takes the view that the President's only course in an emergency is to present the matter to Congress and then await "the final passage of legislation which will enable the government to cope with threatened disaster."

The current steel dispute began last November when the million-member CIO union adopted a 22-point demand as its new contract objective. The United Steelworkers called for an 18½ cent hourly wage boost for 650,000 members in basic steel plants earning $1.90 to $1.95 an hour in actual income.

Other demands were for a guaranteed annual wage, a union shop, elimination of geographical wage inequities to boost the pay of Southern workers, improved overtime and holiday pay, and revised pension and social insurance programs.

Negotiations with United States Steel, the traditional leader of the industry, and other companies got nowhere.

Last Dec. 17 the union's potent wage - policy committee declared the companies had flatly refused to bargain. The union called for a strike Jan. 1 when the old contract expired.

A few days later, President Truman sent federal mediators to talk to both sides. They reported negotiations stalemate. So Truman turned the dispute over to the Wage Stabilization Board on Dec. 22 and asked both sides to continue production to give the WSB time to work out a recommended settlement.

PRESIDENT Philip Murray of the USW called his wage-policy committee together and won that group's approval for delaying the strike until a special USW convention could decide the union's course of action.

On Jan. 4 convention delegates voted to delay a walkout until Feb. 23 to give the WSB the time it needed to hear both sides and suggest a solution.

Another strike postponement came on Feb. 21 because the WSB hadn't finished its task, a new deadline of March 23 was set.

After hearing millions of words of testimony, backed by charts and statistics, the WSB came up with this solution which wasn't binding on any one:

Pay raises of 12½ cents an hour effective last Jan. 1; two and a half cents an hour more next July and another two and a half cents

Several Picked Up Over Sunday

One Drunk Driver Among the List

One intoxicated driver picked up by the police over the weekend drew $200 and costs, 10 days in jail and was suspended from driving for one year when he appeared in municipal court here. He was James I. Bryan, 33, city.

Edward Elva Bellar, 20, on a reckless operation charge, posted $25 bond.

Ernest B. Conn, 37, Mansfield, was charged with running a red light and left $15 for appearance in court.

Cecil C. Puttmeyer, Lowell, for crossing a yellow line, posted $25 bond.

Kenneth E. Snyder, 39, Pittsburgh, for illegal passing, was arrested and required to leave $20 bond.

Harry E. Rutledge, 29, for driving 70 miles an hour, was taken into custody and furnished $20 bond.

M. L. Boller of Indianapolis, for failure to have a non-resident fishing license, was given a citation by Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick.

Three persons were arrested for intoxication.

next Jan. 1. The WSB recommended a union shop and suggested other fringe benefits which gave the package a 26½ cent price tag.

The union accepted the recommendation on March 21 and postponed the strike deadline to April 9. The companies balked at acceptance and insisted they must have price relief to afford the pay increases.

THE INDUSTRY reverted to its stand that the union ought to forego any wage increase if the companies did not try to win higher prices under government controls.

But the companies agreed to talk it over again with the union. Those negotiations were fruitless. The union said the companies were as stubborn as ever. The companies declared Murray was just as stubborn in insisting the industry take the WSB recommendation without change.

New steel company-union negotiations opened in New York on April 3 but collapsed after the USW rejected industry's offer to boost wages 16 cents an hour.

The industry began closing down its plants in preparation for a strike at 12:01 a. m. April 9. With the plants dark and silent President Truman took to the airwaves an hour and a half before the strike deadline to tell a vast radio and television audience that the government was taking over the industry.

Murray then ordered his men to stay on the job and the mills went back into production.

Steel company lawyers hurried into a federal court on April 9 and asked for an order declaring the President had acted illegally in seizing the industry without specific authority from Congress. They charged the Constitution had been violated.

On April 29 the court returned its answer:

No, the court ruled, Truman lacked the right. Murray promptly called his men out again.

NEXT DAY, the U. S. Court of Appeals restored the government's seizure. But the strike continued.

On May 1 Truman appealed to Murray to put the men back at work in the national interest and summoned the union leader and six steel company presidents to a White House conference.

Murray called off the strike the next day and the three-day-long work stoppage came to an end. That same day both industry and union appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court for a final determination on the legality of the seizure.

On My 4 the White House negotiations ended with ng sign of progress. Written and oral arguments were submitted to the Supreme Court by both sides and union and companies settled back to await the court's ruling.

The officers checked 13 accidents in which one person was killed and 15 others injured severely.

They also made 132 arrests for various traffic law violations, and issued 140 warnings to persons who were showing careless driving.

Several arrests were made by the patrolmen in Fayette County during the day.

Drivers from Here Out of Money in Stock Car Races

A crowd of about 2,500 turned out for the stock car races at Circleville Sunday afternoon. None of the drivers from Washington C. H. did much good in any race.

The first race went to Chet McCain of Ashland, the second to Don Wheeler of Circleville, the third to Holy Cross of Galloway, the fourth to James Bingham of Lancaster, the fifth to Dock Holder of Stoutsville and the feature ace of 20 laps around the third of a mile track was won by Carl Louder of Columbus.

In the first race there was a two car pile up but both came out unhurt. In the third race Speedy Sparks of Circleville went into a spin and didn't get to finish the race. The fourth race was the most exciting when Red Barror of Circleville turned over a couple of times and came out uninjured.

At the last meeting of the Four City Racing Club, Buddy Rogers of Washington C. H. was elected vice president.

Many From Here Attend Rose Show

Many resident of Fayette County were among the 10,000 persons who attended the 14th annual Columbus Rose Show held at the Seneca Hotel, Sunday afternoon.

It was the best show of the series, with over 800 entries in 60 classes. The show overflowed into two additional rooms from the main ballroom.

Harold E. Weaver, funeral director of Basil, who married Miss Gladys Griffith of Washington C. H., again carried off many of the top honors of the show with his extraordinary roses.

Weaver won the Ezra Anstaett Trophy for the best rose in the show and three other trophies, as well as other awards.
